Our story began in 1989, designing, manufacturing and marketing lighting fixtures that, over almost four decades, have brought character to countless spaces and illuminated so many lives. Today, we would like to share some important news with you: on the 30th October 2026, ALMA Light will cease operations, bringing its journey to an end.

From our beginnings to the present day, we have developed our own designs, built a distinctive brand identity and brought our lighting fixtures into homes, projects and installations around the world.

But our story has also been shaped by personal relationships, shared projects and the journey we have taken alongside outstanding professionals. That's why we would like to thank you for walking with us along this path... and for being part of our story.

Warm regards,

The ALMA Light team
