BDW'2023

with ALMA Light

October is full of design in our city with the celebration of Barcelona Design Week (BDW'2023). ALMA Light actively participates in this edition by presenting new products, some unprecedented. Would you like to join us? Keep reading...

New Jackie collection

GALERÍA H2O (Calle Verdi 152, 08012 Barcelona)

Opening: October 19 at 19h

Duration: 19-20/Oct, 18h-21h

Free admission

On October 19 and 20, the unprecedented New Jackie collection, a creation by designers Josep Novell and Josep Puig for ALMA Light, will be presented within the framework of the “Off BDW”. With Galería H2O as a setting, different artists and creators have been invited to reinterpret an original design. The event will consist of an ephemeral installation organized by Josep Novell, Josep Puig and the ALMA Light brand.

The first version of the Jackie lamp, which was presented in 2003 and began to be sold twenty years ago, allowed the customization of the shade through the free choice of light filters, as a wide variety of elements could be deposited between its two transparent cylinders. Once disappeared from the market, Jackie has now been recovered and reworked, and is presented in a single table lamp version produced by ALMA Light, recovering its design and offering a version with new materials called New Jackie.

This installation at Galería H2O arises from the excitement of bringing together and sharing a creative activity with people from various generations, inviting them to think and create a light filter for the New Jackie lamp. The resulting pieces, which are not initially intended to be sold, are part of a spontaneous, selfless and experimental action of their authors. The participant designers will be Ramon Benedito and Maite Prat, Ernest Perera, Joaquim Ruiz Millet, Juli Capella, Julia Esqué, Ferran Morgui and Totoya Súnico, Isaac Salom, Jordi Sabat, Lluís Morillas, Beppe Benenti and Maite Oriol, Meritxell Gras, among others.
