Today we would like to highlight the recently opened La Maggiorata restaurant in the heart of Barcelona, in whose main dining room several units of our Fuji pendant have been installed.

Fuji is a handcrafted collection that combines two noble materials: iron and alabaster. Its clean shapes convey simplicity, elegance and minimalism, and the alabaster of its lampshades conveys softness and warmth. Each shade is, in itself, an object with its own identity with unique and unrepeatable veinings. No two are the same! We think the Fuji at this restaurant look spectacular.

The authorship of this project belongs to the Barcelona designer Nora Batlle, whose interior designs radiate authenticity and positive energy, using noble materials that generate unique textures and spaces. The images are courtesy of the restaurant itself, the Nora Batlle Interior Design studio <https://www.norabatlle.com/> and our own team.
