STONE LED,
ALMA Light's most organic design

At ALMA Light, we have a particular fondness for the STONE LED collection. Now a true classic, it's one of our favorites thanks to its relaxed style, versatile design and organic spirit. The shade, shaped like a stone and made of white molded polyethylene, gently diffuses the light with a soft, enveloping glow. Each piece offers a unique perspective, free from symmetry, allowing it to blend naturally into all kinds of settings. STONE LED can be used as a single light fixture to create a zen effect, or in grouped arrangements to form elegant compositions across ceilings, walls or gardens.

STONE LED suits a wide range of environments: private homes, hospitality projects, cultural centers, terraces and gardens. It includes indoor models —pendant and surface-mounted fixtures for ceilings or walls— and OUT versions for outdoor use —surface-mounted ceiling or wall fixtures, and a floor lamp.

All STONE LED models feature an integrated 40W white Epistar LED with a luminous flux of 3240 lumens and a color temperature of 3000K (not dimmable). Thanks to its organic shape, STONE LED adapts easily to contemporary interiors, making it ideal for custom installations that bring a touch of original, casual design to any space.
